

Scientific organisation

IEHCA's scientific policy is determined by a Scientific Council, which is composed of leading experts in the field of the history of culture and food. When it was founded, its three main priorities were: openness to Europe, a diachronic approach, and a multi-disciplinary approach.

The Scientific Council is composed of 19 members. It is chaired by Pascal ORY, Professor of Contemporary History at the University of Paris 1-Panthéon Sorbonne, France, and by its vice-chair, Bruno LAURIOUX, Professor of Medieval History at the University of Versailles-Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines, France.

Members of the Scientific Council

- > Martin BRUEGEL, Research director, Contemporary history, INRA CORELA (consumption behaviour), Ivry, France
- > Alberto CAPATTI, Professor, University of Gastronomic Sciences, Pollenzo, Italy
- > Julia CSERGO, Senior lecturer / Assistant professor, Contemporary history, Lumière-Lyon 2 University, France
- > Olivier ETCHEVERRIA, Senior lecturer / Assistant professor, Geography, University of Angers, France
- > Madeleine FERRIÈRES, Professor, Modern history, University of Avignon, France
- > Claude FISCHLER, Research director, Sociology, CNRS, Paris, France
- > Allen J. GRIECO, Visiting researcher, Villa I Tatti, Harvard University Center for Italian Renaissance Studies, Florence, Italy
- > Marie-Pierre HORARD-HERBIN, Senior lecturer / Assistant professor, Archaeozoology, François-Rabelais University, Tours, France
- > Mary HYMAN, Independent researcher, Food historian, Paris, France
- > Manuela MARIN, Research director, Institute of Philology, Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Científicas (Spanish National Research Council), Madrid, Spain
- > Massimo MONTANARI, Professor, Medieval history, University of Bologna, Italy
- > Jean-Robert PITTE, Professor, Geography, University of Paris-Sorbonne, Paris, France
- > Antoni RIERA MELIS, Professor, Medieval history, University of Barcelona, Spain
- > Françoise SABBAN, Director of studies, Anthropology, Paris, France
- > Peter SCHOLLIERS, Professor, Contemporary history, Free University of Brussels, Belgium
- > John WILKINS, Professor, Ancient history, University of Exeter, United Kingdom
- > Jean-Pierre WILLIOT, Professor, Contemporary history, François-Rabelais University, Tours, France